to Consider the Proposition of the President of the United States.

He Will Not End the Strike.

More Disorder and Lawless Rioting Occur in the Anthracite Coal Fields of Pennsylvania Today. News from the Strike Region.

Wickes Barre, Pa., Oct. 8.—President Mitchell returned from Buffalo at 10 o'clock this morning. He has then a letter to President Roosevelt in which he states that he cannot agree to the president's proposition in regard to calling off the strike, but Mitchell says that while he has given his reasons for this decision, he does not think it proper to make them public until the president has received his letter.

eral non-unionists were badly beaten by strikers today as the former were walking over a mountain path to the mines. There was no attempt made to start up any mines. The tenth and sixteenth regiments are expected in this region today.

A ONE SIDED COMMITTEE

As Appointed from the Senate for the Conference

With the Committee from the House. The Former Consisted Entirely of Republicans While the Latter Included One Lone Democrat Among Four Republicans.

Columbus, O., Oct. 8.—The conference committee has been named, and the municipal code is practically ready for it. The senate committee consists of Senators Longworth, Archer, Harris and Patterson. The house committee consists of Representatives Cole, Comings, Deussen and Sharp, the latter being the lone Democrat who will have a voice in the conference committee. The house has adjourned until next week at which time it is hoped that the conference committee will be ready to report, and Senator Royer indicated Governor Nash that the code would be passed this week and the session would adjourn sine die by Friday next.

The house did not pass its bill by a party vote, as some predicted. Messrs. Highland, Collier, of Ohio, Gehrett, of Henry, Pattington, Kelly, and Wells, of Wayne, voted the Republicans. Many of the Democrats also voted for the judiciary bill as a separate police court which was passed without any dissent.

The senate, however, the police bill did not fare so well, for here Democrats stood pat and refused to vote for it, and as it requires a two-thirds vote to pass it, as yet it has to get through the senate. Senator Longworth was very much pitted over the failure to pass the police bill in the senate, and stated his lofty opinion of the upper house of the general assembly was much changed. In opposing the judiciary bill, how the Democrats were true to their word. They stoutly maintained that they will not vote for it until the curative clause is eliminated. The Republicans are wedded to the curative clause, however, and do not propose to eliminate it.

The Conference Committee The house and senate were appointed the view of reporting back to branches a compromise bill which will permit the councils of various municipalities to select for the board of public service consist of three or five members. It will give George B. Cox what he wants, and will at the same time satisfy, in a large measure, the municipalities upon which sent, against a lively campaign. The legislature will no doubt be away from here by the 15th of the month, and there will then be nothing in the way.

Will Celebrate at Chillicothe. At a meeting of the executive committee of the State Historical society, held in this city, plans for the celebration of the centennial of the admission of Ohio into the union were discussed. The society is arranging for a general celebration at Chillicothe—the ancient capitol of the state.

Denounced the Coal Operators. Columbus lodge, No. 175, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, has adopted resolutions denouncing the operators in the anthracite region, upholding the miners in their struggle, and appealing to all organized labor to take a firm stand for justice and right. The resolutions suggest that President Mitchell, of the miners, call a meeting of the executive officers of organized labor for the purpose of providing means to continue the strike, to invoke the judiciary to uphold the majesty of the law, and suppress anarchy of capital.

The County Auditor Won Out. By a decision of the supreme court Tuesday, Auditor C. W. Fritz, of Richland county, won a signal victory over the county commissioners. Fritz refused to advertise an issue of court house bonds and the commissioners sought to mandamus him, but the supreme court holds in his favor.

Another Requisition Wanted. Governor Nash has issued a requisition upon the governor of Pennsylvania for Fred F. Smith, alias S. B. Hill who is wanted in Cuyahoga county on the charge of forgery.

The Members Asked for More.

Chairman Crafts, of the house finance committee, introduced a bill to pay the members $400 of next year's salary, and also to make an appropriation for the expenses of the state inspector and account bureau, created last year but not provided for by the general appropriation bills. Representative Metzger moved to amend so as to give the members $600 at the close of this session, and the amendment was passed, adopted by a vote of 51 to 32, and the bill passed.

Ex-Governor Neil Buried Today.

The funeral of the late Governor John B. Neil took place today at 10 a. m., from the residence of his brother, M. H. Neil on east Broad street. The deceased was private secretary of Governor Hayes and, after Hayes became president, served as governor of one of the territories, and later as registrar of the land office at Salt Lake City.

A Warm Spring Campaign Predicted.

The political campaign in the various municipalities next spring promises to be possibly the warmest ever witnessed in Ohio as at that time it is expected that the new vote will be effective. Assistant Director of Law Franklin Rubrecht states that he believes that the Cincinnati decision in the street railway matter which has resulted in the curative clause arbitration will apply to all franchises granted in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo, Dayton and other cities governed by special acts, and the street railway and other franchise ordinances passed in those cities will have to be repealed or their validity before they become valid. He predicts that in all cities the corporations will attempt to control elections next spring.

IT MAY BE THE LAST

BOYS IN GRAY Are Not Forgotten in the Warm Hearted South.

Perryville, Ky., Oct. 8.—The fortieth anniversary of the battle of Perryville was observed today by the dedication of a handsome monument to the memory of the Confederate soldiers who lost their lives in the bloody and bloody conflict between Grant's army and Buell's. The dedication was attended with interesting addresses and other ceremonies conducted in the presence of a large throng.

The monument was erected through an appropriation made by the Kentucky legislature. It is twenty-two feet high, being surmounted by an infantry soldier, bearing a musket, at rest. It stands on a slight elevation and can be seen for miles around.

So the "Boys" Fall in Line Just as When Lincoln Called.

The White Banner of Peace,

And the Gray Haired, Age Worn Troops Give the Thousands of Spectators Some Idea of the Changes Forty Years Can Bring.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—"Let's brave it, comrades, it may be the last march we will ever take part in."

This was what a gray-haired veteran of Ohio said this morning at the hour announced for the different state departments of the G. A. R. to move toward their formation places for the big parade. The belief that it might be their last chance to march again shoulder to shoulder is what led many of the age-worn veterans to brave the torture that followed for several long hours. Fortunate it was that no serious results followed and much of the credit of that is due to the physicians of Washington, who, almost to a man, volunteered their services for the occasion. Following each division there was the surgeons' corps of strong young men and the army ambulances.

But the old veterans stood the tire-some ordeal wonderfully well. The great majority of them marched with precision, even if they were not as quick at obeying commands as in the old days. And they demonstrated that forty-five years does not take a man out of service, whatever may be the civil-service rules. They carried the old flag, and some of them carried their muskets and knapsacks and blankets. They were on their feet from early morning, before the parade began, and several hours on the march in the middle of the day, though the route was greatly shortened as compared with those of previous encampments.

The arrangements were all that could be desired, but a grand parade is too big an affair to be without fatigue. They may march again, but not many more years, and there are many who think that the time has come to abandon the most inspiring spectacle because its greatest fatigues fall upon those whom the people would shield rather than burden.

WHITE BANNER

Of Peace and the Stars and Stripes Lead Today.

It was 10:30 o'clock when the signal guns to start were fired. The start was made from the Congressional Library building. The white banner of peace and the stars and stripes led the column. The flaming stripes and starry field of the flag were the more brilliant beside the white silk banner, above which perched the white dove of peace with a spray of ivy in its beak. So the column approached the reviewing stand, and then between them rode the commander-in-chief of the Grand Army, General Eli Torrance, of Minnesota. Beside him rode Colonel A. Noel Blakeman, grand marshal of the day and his aids, who escorted the command to the stand, while the beauty and chivalry of the national capital gave him a welcome befitting a hero who conquers in peace. On the reviewing stand were seated the cabinet officers and numerous other dignitaries.

The flag of the G. A. R. was hung out, the stars and stripes and the banner of peace approached, and the column moved forward again and kept moving for several hours. The executive committees of the Grand Army and the Sons of Veterans escorted the way, and then came Illinois leading the veterans of the Grand Army. The bands played "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys Are Marching," and the Columbia Post, of Chicago, 100 strong, marched down Pennsylvania avenue as bravely as they marched on that memorable day of the grand review of 1865. But the strains of music and the applause took the heart out of many of the old soldiers and the only wonder is that it did not make them all as sentimental as were many of those who looked on and let the tears course down their cheeks as they saw the Grand Army of olden days. The grand review, 1865, was a grand review.

OHIO LED

The Second Division Followed by New York Veterans.

Numerically, Pennsylvania and New York carried off the palm in the parade, though Illinois, Indiana and Ohio did not fall below in the number of veterans in line. Wisconsin followed Illinois, in line, with Walcott Post, of Milwaukee, leading. Then came the Pennsylvania posts and their old battle flags, which attracted much attention. Ohio led the second division and was followed by New York, the Lafayette post of New York city, and the Bidwell-Wilkinson post of Buffalo, attracting special attention by their neat uniforms and excellent marching.

The third division was made up of posts from Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Maine, California, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Vermont, Virginia and North Carolina. In the fourth division were Maryland, Nebraska, Michigan, Iowa and Indiana. Minnesota, Missouri and Kansas made good showing in the sixth division. In the next division was the department of the Potomac bringing up the rear of the procession.

It was long after the noon hour when the last of the veterans had marched by the White House. The entire route was decorated lavishly, every building, public and private, being adorned with the stars and stripes, bunting of red, white and blue and the insignia of the G. A. R. and the various army corps, until the eye of the spectator was sated with the varied display. It is estimated that 500,000 persons witnessed the pageant. The morning trains brought hundreds of visitors from all points within a radius of a hundred miles of Washington, and seldom has the capital entertained a larger crowd.

The parade was the feature of the day. Every thing else gave way to it, and when the march was over the veterans were in no mood to do anything but rest and endeavor to recuperate sufficiently to enjoy some of the public functions arranged for the evening.

NEXT ENCAMPMENT

Will Probably be Held on the Pacific Coast.

Washington, Oct. 8.—There is a merry contest on for honor of entertaining next encampment of G. A. R., with San Francisco, Atlantic City, Saratoga and Pittsburg in the running. At present odds seem to be in favor of the Pacific coast metropolis.

THE PRESIDENT

Reviews a Portion of the Parade from His Carriage.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—President Roosevelt reviewed a portion of the G. A. R. parade from his carriage, which was driven from the temporary White House down Pennsylvania avenue to Peace monument and back again. He started at 11:15 o'clock, being carried out of the house in a wicker hospital chair. He was made made comfortable in a carriage, resting his back on a pneumatic cushion. His injured leg was propped up on a foot stool. He enjoyed the outing very much and was enthusiastically cheered.

TERRIBLE RIOTING

Of New Orleans Street Car Men Results in Bloodshed and Death for Non-union Men.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 8.—The street railway company attempted to take out a car at 10 o'clock this morning from the Canal street barn. It had gone but a few yards, when it was attacked. The police, who were smarting under editorial comment because they allowed the men to tear up the cars yesterday, opened fire. About 100 shots were fired. Several policemen were badly wounded, also a number in the crowd. Peter Johnson and Alfred Clark, of Chicago, who came here with about 30 men to work for the street railway company, were both badly beaten, their wounds may prove fatal. Motorman Ferguson, a striker, was shot in the arm. Conductor Kennedy, the non-union man on the car, was shot in the hand. Stones and sticks were used. The car was then returned to the barn.

At 11:30 o'clock this morning the mob attacked and overturned a police patrol wagon filled with wounded non-union men being taken to the hospitals. Several policemen and two newspaper reporters, Robert E. Lee and Edwards, were badly hurt in the fracas. One report's hand was torn off. A non-union man was found on the sidewalk in front of the union headquarters this morning badly beaten up. He died soon afterwards in the charity hospital. Special dispatches bring news that 500 non-union men who left Chicago yesterday, will arrive here some time tonight. More trouble is expected then.

The Ohio Oil Company has just completed one of the largest wells found in the Buckeye fields in several months its No. 1 on the Henry Shaffer farm in section 9 of Jennings township, Van Wert county. By actual gauge the well made 275 barrels the first 24 hours and during the second day it turned 250 barrels of oil into the tank. The first three wells on this farm were good producers, though, nothing out of the ordinary. Several large ones have been secured in that territory, which is considered somewhat spotted and has to produce an occasional big oil well.

The Ohio's No. 1 Gertrude Heitz section 4 Jennings started at 25 barrels. The Venadocia Oil company got a duster at No. 5 John Richards in section 17 and a 29 barrel at No. 6 Roland Evans section 15.

In Ridge township, Ohio, A. Spence's No. 1 Lewis Frager section 26 started producing at a 35 barrel gait. R. G. Gillespie has two 15 barrelers in No. 4 M. A. Leathers and No. 4 E. Higley both in section 34 Ridge.

The Gilbert Oil company's No. 1 S. A. Swisher in section 3 of Sugar Creek township Allen county made 20 barrels the first day.

In Bloom township of Wood county, Harkley & Gabagay's No. 2 R. F. Smith section 3 proved to be a duster. Fowler Bros. & Co. completed No. 3 on the H. Goble farm in section 22 of Webster township getting a 10 barrel producer.

In Sandusky county, the Ohio Oil Co. No. 6, S. B. Waggoner in section 7 of Sandusky township made 40 barrels the first 24 hours.

IN INDIANA.

Results of Recent Operations in the Hoosier Field.

As a general rule the production of new wells in Grant county has been quite good and there are only a few out of a large number of new completions that will not add to the returns from the leases upon which they are located.

In the West Marion field, Siederman & Stubler have a good producer on the Peter Stubler lots, section 12 their No. 3 making 69 barrels the first day. No. 1, on the Seiderman & Stubler property, in section 1, Franklin, was small, making only 10 barrels at the start.

The Beaver Oil company got a 30 barrel at No. 1 on the W. E. William in section 2 Franklin.

In Center township, two wells which have been completed yielded 70 and 20 barrels respectively the first 24 hours, the former being the Crown Oil company's No. 4 R. & E. Ratliff section 17 while the latter was the Indiana Enterprise Transit company's No. 5, T. W. Swisher, in section 24.

In the lower portion of Washington township the Marion Gas company has completed No. 2 on the Frank

PASSED

From Earth to Everlasting Peace.

Charles M. Shoemaker of Sugar Creek Township

Lays Down Life's Weary Burden to Claim the Reward of the Faithful. Funeral Will be Held Friday.

Charles M. Shoemaker one of Allen county's best known and most highly respected pioneers passed away at his home two miles north of Elida in Sugar Creek township, shortly after 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. General debility is given as the cause.

In the death of Charles Shoemaker, the community has lost one of its most valued citizens. He was born in Fairfield county, Ohio, seventy-eight years ago today. When in the height of young manhood, 24 years of age, he removed to Sugar Creek township, in Allen county, where he has been a prize-winning resident ever since loyal to the best interests of the county and an ever dependable neighbor.

For nearly forty years, Mr. Shoemaker followed his chosen line of business, that of funeral director until advancing years made it necessary for him to retire.

To mourn their great loss, the deceased leaves a devoted wife and five children. The latter who are now all grown to manhood and womanhood are Mrs. Rachel Stemen, wife of E. C. Stemen of Van Wert county, near Middletown; Mrs. Rebecca Hance of 305 north Franklin avenue this city; Mrs. Emma Glendinning who lives south of Elida, in German township; Miss Phoebe Shoemaker living at the old homestead and Charles S. Shoemaker, who lives with his family on a portion of the Shoemaker farm.

The funeral services will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock from the Salem church. Interment will take place in the Salem or Dutch Hollow cemetery.

In the passing away of Charles Shoemaker Allen county loses a good citizen, his family a devoted husband and father and his associates a true upright friend.

A LOVING TRIBUTE

The following is in remembrance of our dear baby Edward G. Riley, born Nov. 21, 1899 died Oct. 3, 1902 aged 2 years 11 months and 15 days. Like a little blossom plucked from earth's care.

Diffusing holy sweetness on the desert air.

Just beyond the golden gate.

Where the angels watch and wait.

A little child so pure and sweet is sitting at the Savior's feet.

Peace is written on his brow.

Little Eddie's an angel now.

And the Savior meek and mild.

Has his arm around our child.

A father's pride a mother's joy.

A precious heart without alloy.

May we, when done with earthly care.

Meet our darling over there.

From his loving parents and cousin.

THE STAGE.

In "The Way of the Wicked," which comes to the Faurot opera house tonight, the commendable revival of Ching Ling the opium den keeper, to "no more smoke—starke a landree and he allee smee goodie like Mott-see man," meets with the universal approbation of the audience.

The great scenic production, Lincoln J. Carter's "Fast Mail," company, which will appear at the Faurot opera house next Saturday matinee and night has played all through the United States for the past twelve years. It is unnecessary to dwell upon its merits. Suffice it is to say that for this season it has new scenery and mechanical effects that surpass all previous efforts. The present season, Mr. Carter has ten companies on the road.

A PERFUME CONCERT.

Audience to Visit Japan Through Medium of Sweet Odors.

To cultivate the olfactory nerves "by the artistic manipulation of perfumes which will yield aesthetic pleasures similar to music or pictorial art" there is going to be a perfume concert at the Carnegie lyceum on Oct. 14 "an experimental concert," as its authors modestly put it, and a succession of scents will be squirted about the hall and over the audience so adeptly that those present will think they are in Japan, says the New York correspondent of the Chicago Tribune.

At least the management of the concert is going to present "a highly original" and will call the melody "A Trip to Japan in Sixteen Minutes," asking those present to believe when they sniff certain aromas that they are really transported sensually to the chrysanthemum kingdom. That the blunted olfactory nerves of the Philistines may be helped out by the assistance of "two senses and a solo dancer" who will perform while the perfumes are being squirted.

The persons in charge of the arrangements for the occasion have this to say:

"It is a well known scientific fact that odors exert impressions on the human mind not unlike those produced by music."

Every one has experienced that a small suddenly appreciated perfume of some flower that grew in the old homestead while we spent our childhood days, sends back one's train of thought to scenes of the past more rapidly and more vividly than any other art medium. It seems strange that a sense so easily excited has been left in a primal and dormant state, as our olfactory nerves undoubtedly could be cultivated to such an extent that an artist's manipulation of perfumes would yield aesthetic pleasures similar to music or pictorial art.

"That this has never been accomplished has been due largely to the lack of an apparatus capable of directing odors forcibly enough into an audience and of producing precise impressions even at great distances."

"Such an apparatus has been invented lately, and the first perfume concert will demonstrate how far perfumes can be combined to an artistic entity similar to a melody or a piece of descriptive music. It will remain for the audience to decide whether the attempt has been a successful one."

CRUTCH-BOUND

The crutch is a poor substitute for legs, and affords a very inconvenient and tiresome mode of locomotion—there is no more street support than a person slowly and painfully moving along the street supported by these artificial limbs.

When Rheumatism settles in the bones and muscles of the legs, it is safe to predict that the victim will eventually become helpless and crutch-bound. The corrosive, irritating matter that is deposited in the joints and muscles causes the most intense pain, the knees and ankles swell, and when the natural oils and fluids that lubricate these parts are completely destroyed the joints become locked and the muscles drawn and stiff, and crutches a necessity.

The acid poisons that produce rheumatic pains form in the blood, and are distributed through the system, and lodged in the arms, shoulders, hands, back and feet, or other parts of the body—resulting often in total disability. A permanent cure of Rheumatism can be effected only by a complete cleansing of the blood, and no other remedy so surely accomplishes this as S. S. S. It neutralizes the acid effects, purifies and invigorates the stagnant blood, and the gritty particles are washed out or dislodged by the new rich blood, and relief comes to the pain-racked sufferer. S. S. S. leaves no morbid, irritating matter in the blood to react and produce another attack, but expels every atom of it from the system. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, and does not impair the digestion or general health like alkali or potash remedies.

Write for our special free book on Rheumatism, and if any medical advice or other information is wanted, our physicians will gladly furnish it without charge.

NEWS CONCERNING SOUTH LIMA FOLKS.

Important Events Which Have Transpired on the South Side.

Death of Benjamin C. Faurot, Jr.
The home of Frederick Faurot, 765 Broadway, was saddened yesterday evening about five o'clock by the death of his oldest son, Benjamin C. Faurot, Jr., from tuberculosis. Mr. Faurot has been a sufferer for the past ten years with the disease which terminated his life. During the Harrison administration, he was a postman, and the exposure experienced by him at that time, brought on the illness, which totally incapacitated him for work since that time. He was 40 years, three months and seven days old yesterday. Besides his parents, he leaves one brother, Harry, of Cripple Creek, Colo., and two sisters, Mrs. R. B. Garretson, and Miss Florence Faurot, both of this city. Owing to the absence of members of the family no funeral arrangements have been made up to the time of going to press.

Baffles Physicians.
Mrs. Woollett, of south Jackson street, mother of Samuel Fickle, is a sufferer from a strange stomach malady which so far has baffled the attending physicians. About two months ago she was taken ill and gradually grew worse, so much so that she has not eaten anything whatever for twenty-nine days, yet she lives, but what sustains her is only to be surmised. Doctors say that her digestive organs are merely absorbing the flesh from her body, thus keeping her alive. Mrs. Woollett is seventy-four years old, and about ten days ago lost her eyesight and suffers terrible agony.

An Idle Trick.
Some miscreant with little to do, sent in a false alarm of fire from box 45, located at Hughes avenue and Second street, thus causing a long and tiresome run and unnecessary excitement. Second street is in a very bad shape and it was a shame to call the department out over there without cause. Fire Marshal Coats says he will thoroughly investigate this unprincipled business, and means to prosecute the guilty offender.

Tomorrow will be a big day for the Rebekahs of this district, who will hold a meeting at Delphos Stella lodge will send a large delegation.

CATARH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, but Safe and Effective Cure for It.

Catarh of the stomach has long been considered the most thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headache, sickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition. The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harrison, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux. Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine, can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. R. S. Workman, Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose, becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge there from passes backward into the throat reaches the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I can not find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heart burn and bloating after meals.

The Bacillus of Love.
Some eminent professors in Paris have discovered that love is a bacillus and contains a malignant poison. "Love is one of our most dangerous inheritances from the dark ages, one that has been kept alive and fostered by polite literature," says Lady Violet Greville in the London Graphic. "It should be under control of a board of health that possesses full police authority." Farewell, then, to poets and romancers; farewell to all the Julietts and Francescas of the stage, sweet victims of love. We are progressing. The present generation is unromantic in the extreme, and it is the old, not the young, who now fall in love.

Coming to America to Learn.
Several more Prussian nobles will visit the United States. They are Count von Tiele Winkler, Count Adelbert von Sierstorff, Count A. von Pourtales, Count von Vernstorff and Baron von Ruhl, representatives of aristocratic Prussian houses, who are coming with the emperor's consent to study social conditions and observe the methods used here in educating the sons of leading American families. Count von Tiele will do the reporting to his sovereign. Count von Sierstorff has family connections in the United States.

The Coming Heroes.
Preparations for the fray. On the grid are under way; Hunky fellows doing stunts as they practice plays and punts. They have donned the padded clothes and the white for car and race. On their heads big crops of hair. They are raising with due care. They are tearing up the dirt. Running, falling, getting hurt. Legs they're twisting, arms they're sprain. But they're heedless of the pain.

Back and forward, here and there. All around the field they tear. Down they tumble, up they rise, Picking mud from ears and eyes. Panting, puffing, still they race And the pigskin fiercely chase. In the mud they often roll As they're striving for the goal.

So severe is test of brains One would think the season's on. But they're only practicing For the coming real thing. —Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

OUTWITTED

The Girls Parents and Won a Wife.

Delphos Couple Eloped to Kentucky

And are Now in Lima Awaiting for the Troubled Parental Waters to Subside.

Friday morning quite a sensation was caused in the south part of town, says the Delphos Herald, at the announcement that one of the young ladies in that part of the city had left home. It was thought that it was an elopement but so cleverly was it carried out that nothing definite could be ascertained until several days afterwards.

For some time Miss Anna Davy and Geo. Hinderleider have been good friends but it seems there was a parental objection. The young people, therefore, planned an elopement. Thursday evening the young lady told her parents she was going to church, but instead met Mr. Hinderleider and together they went to Lima. It had been cleverly devised and nothing was suspected by the girl's parents until after she had gone, when they supposed she had left for Marion, Ind.

From Lima they went to Cincinnati and crossed the river to Covington, Ky. The young lady is not yet of age, and as the age limit in Kentucky is 17 they deemed it best to have the matrimonial knot tied in that state. A Squire performed the ceremony which made them man and wife, Friday morning, and they returned to Lima rejoicing.

One of the most misleading incidents in connection with the affair was that Mr. Hinderleider wrote the Herald one day last week that he had re-enlisted and would return to the Philippines. The letter was written at Akron where Mr. Hinderleider had been working and sent to Defiance and mailed giving the impression that he was in that city. We acknowledge that we were also "taken in" by publishing the letter in good faith, but then we can stand a little faking when it is to secure someone's happiness as is the saying, "All's well that ends well."

Mr. and Mrs. Hinderleider have been staying at the home of his sister in Lima, and it is not known whether they will go to Marion or not. Their many friends shower congratulations and best wishes upon them.

NEW STYLE OF STORE.

A Paris Innovation in the Matter of Trade.

In the Architectural Record for September Thierre Calmettes describes M. Dufayel's remarkable establishment in Paris. This is one of the most interesting centers of French commerce, both on account of its magnificent decoration and because of the system of business practiced there. It is the center of a great credit scheme. For small sums usually one-fifth of the whole price—any one can purchase whatever household goods he may require and settle the balance by weekly installments varying from 30 cents to $4. This system has been readily appreciated by both rich and poor, and it is reported that 3,000,000 customers have placed orders with the firm, and 3,000 clerks are employed in booking and sending off these orders, which amount to $25,000,000 in the course of a year.

It is not an extensive dry goods emporium such as we have in America, but more of the nature of a banking and order concern. In an immense gallery are 250 mahogany desks. Here come the customers and take their places in a row of armchairs and await their turn to pay their installments or receive credit notes they have applied for. M. Dufayel does not sell clothes, underlinen and other articles directly to his customers, but gives in return for a small installment an order on one of the 400 shops with which he has business connections. For such goods he pays cash and recoups himself by the weekly payment. M. Calmettes assures us that the profits of the business are not made on the purchase price, but by getting a fair discount from the seller by paying cash down.

ROOSEVELT'S TRUST REMEDY.

It is apparent from the comments of the press and opinions gathered from other sources that President Roosevelt's proposed constitutional amendment as a remedy for the trust evil has failed flat. In the first place, it is regarded by the ablest men in both political parties as impossible of attainment, as no amendment to the constitution taking the control of all business and industrial corporations from the States and transferring it to the Federal Government can be passed by the requisite votes in Congress, or ratified by two-thirds of the states. If the question were to be submitted to them, admitting that the constitutional amendment is possible the question remains, and it is a very important one, what kind of anti-trust laws are promised if Congress is vested with the power to deal with them. On this point the President is silent, because he is well aware that he seeks an important power to accomplish an indefinite result. The country regards this as supreme folly and therefore it has received his proposed remedy for the trust evil with derision. The truth is the people view the President's position on the trust question with doubt and distrust, and how the trusts themselves regard it is made clear by "The American Banker," one of their authorized organs which says: "The President is beginning to make worried grimaces about trusts. He is copious, but turbulent; vague, but threatening; unceasing in his admissions of great evils, but speechless as to what these evils are. He means business, but he does not inform us when he proposes to begin, and if we must wait for a constitutional amendment, the beginning may be regarded as indefinitely postponed. Continuous talk of the evils which trusts do, followed by earnest protests that we must do nothing in fanaticism against them, and capped by vague generalizations about the remedy, simply stir up the stew in which public opinion already simmers. The President warns against 'wild and fanatical' attacks on corporations, while talking glibly of the 'real sinners' of which the trusts are guilty, without telling us what these sinners are, or how they may be remedied. This creates fanaticism and confirms radical action. It gives the reckless enemies of the industrial system new weapons. They will use them to the limit, and public opinion, that the President purveys the evils that they do, without telling how to punish or restrain them. Away with the hapless chatter. The remedy is Government ownership."

The "Banker" takes up the President's remedy of "publicity" and ridicules the idea that can help the situation. It says:

"What is 'publicity' and what may be expected of it? It is to be feared that a mere abstraction has been endowed with a living soul ready to sit in judgment and to dispense justice with irresistible power. The wrongs which monopolists practice cannot be punished or abolished by mere publicity. How will publicity prevent a monopolizing association from selling goods below cost of production, when competitors are to be exterminated? Can publicity prove and prevent an extortionate advance of prices? Does publicity abolish the benefits which monopolistic concerns derive from the tariff?"

All of this is very true, and the "Banker" realizes it must be evident to every body. The result is that the President is admitting the evils of trusts and proposing no remedy at all. Hence it concludes:

"The masses of the people are sure where the President wavers. They applaud when he adverts to the evil practices of the trusts; but they smile grimly if they do not harken with puzzled faces to the lame conclusion. And it is from the significant stirrings in this mass that conservative men recoil. There is a talk of revolution in counting houses and bank parlors. The President's campaign against the trust affords these worried men no comfort. Consequently there are murmurs which suggest political cross-currents within the President's own party. Can a President so madly down on the evils of trusts stem far-fetched action against these great corporations?"

The whole country is aware that the President's anti-trust campaign is merely a game of buncombe and that there is nothing in it the trusts have to fear unless it be that it has served to increase the agitation of the anti-trust question throughout the country and cause a rumpus among the Western Republicans. Realizing this fact, the trusts served notice on the President that he must change his tune and this he did in his speech at Cincinnati, Saturday night. "The chances are he will be saying that 'trusts are good things' before the election are held in November.—New Orleans States.

Troops Called Out. New Orleans, Oct. 2.—The railway company tried to obey the order of the mayor to run passenger cars, but with almost the entire force of city police concentrated at the scene of action the four cars started got no farther than five squares from the Canal street barn and the attempt was abandoned. In the disturbance at Tont street, where the car was held up, F. H. Schwenck of Chicago, a nonunion contractor, was hit on the head with a brick and badly hurt. The cars were badly damaged by bricks and stones. The mayor issued a call for 1,000 volunteer citizen police. The responses to the call have been few. The mayor later requested the governor to call out the militia.

Attempted Train Robbery. Guthrie, O. T., Oct. 2.—An attempt was made between Chickasaw, I. T., and "Siding No. 1" to hold up the fast Rock Island passenger train westbound. A number of shots were fired into the coaches but no one was hurt. The train had just entered the canyon, where in 1895 a desperate train robbery was committed by the Jennings gang, when a number of shots were fired at the train. Three rifle bullets passed through the coach windows, causing a panic among the passengers, while several others struck the sides of the cars. The engineer increased the speed of the train.

She Drowned Her Rival. Wheeling, Oct. 2.—The mystery surrounding the death of Miss Gay Smith, the Bridgeport (O.) girl whose dead body was found in the Ohio river, was cleared up when Rodella Bala, the girl with whom she was last seen alive and who on Monday attempted suicide, made a full confession to Chief of Police Ritz of this city. The girl confessed that while on a yacht ferry boat Monday night of last week she and the Smith girl, who were rivals for the affections of George Nolan, quarreled over the fact, and in the struggle she pushed the Smith girl into the river.

Young Corbett Won. Philadelphia, Oct. 2.—Young Corbett and Eddie Lenny of this city sparred six rounds here, and the local man was in good shape at the conclusion of the bout. In the sixth round Corbett knocked Lenny down twice and sent him to his knees once, before fighting Lenny to the floor just before the round ended. The bell evidently saved a knockout. Corbett had the best of the fight from the start, but Lenny used his left to good advantage and fought gamely.

Woman Run Down. Newark, O., Oct. 2.—Mrs. Elizabeth Towell, 65, the widow of Abner Towell, was killed in the Baltimore and Ohio yards. In crossing the tracks she was struck by a locomotive.

RUSSIA WOULD LIKE A THROUGH TARIFF.

Railroad from Siberia to Manchuria Does Not Pay Well.

London, Oct. 2.—A dispute from Odessa says that an important conference of Russian and European railway and steamship officials was commenced in that city today in an endeavor to arrange a through Continental tariff by the Siberian and Chinese Eastern railroads. One of the chief difficulties in arranging a satisfactory rate through Siberia and Manchuria is the high cost of keeping up the new road and its large initial cost. But the Russian officials hope to be able to overcome this and establish rates by which the far eastern road will become accessible to all.

Boyd retreated in good order to Silva, who consulted the other trustees, before taking further steps. In the meantime, the state convention of the U. D. C. proceeded and the flag still flies.

JURY

Will Hold a Long Session.

The Witnesses

Are Not Coming in Hurried Order

Now That the Important Cases are Being Carefully Investigated.

Fully Two Weeks Will be Exhausted Before All of the Cases are Finally Submitted for Hearing.

Bailiff Johnny Sullivan, who has charge of the grand jury, and the witnesses who are being hurried before the criminal tribunal, is a busy man today, and if business keeps up, as it promises to do, he will be holding the part in the top gallery of the temple of justice for at least two weeks. Witnesses came fast enough at the beginning, but now that the prosecutor has plunged deep into the seat of crime, the examinations are progressing more slowly and there is a long interval before a call is issued for the next in line.

The average has been less than 20 witnesses a day, which insures the presence of the grand jury for a period which will extend far into next week, even if it is not entirely exhausted.

There will probably be a partial report made before the grand jury adjourns as the number of cases reaches so far toward the 100 mark as to almost demand a division. It is impossible to tell at this time just when the line will be drawn, as the names of new witnesses have been handed in from day to day, until the two hundred mark has been very nearly approached, and is likely to be passed before the long session is brought to a final close.

So far as the crimes are concerned, they include everything from murder down to assault and battery, insuring plenty of work in the criminal line for the petit jury, before which both the guilt or innocence of the accused will be finally decided. There are a number out on bond, and the publication of the report of the grand jury will have to be curtailed to a certain extent so as to prevent the escape of some who may be indicted.

Adjourned for a Day.
Judge Cunningham has rushed the preliminary business up to the present needs, and yesterday adjourned court for a day, setting tomorrow for another session of motions, orders or pressing legal affairs. Tomorrow he will again be in evidence on the bench for the purpose of deciding such earnest matters as the attorneys may have to offer, and on Monday of next week, the petit jury will take up the regular assignment of cases as published yesterday.

KNIGHTS

Held Full Sway at the Stag Social.

Everybody Had a Good Time and Sheriff Barr Won the Prize.

Sheriff Barr was one of the elect at the Knights of Pythias stag social last night, and now carries, as a matter of convenience, an individual drinking cup, which he earned as a lucky participant in the pedro contest.

The social as a whole, was one of the most successful events in the long series of festivals held under the auspices of the order, and the alliance was in keeping with the idea of making the long winter season as full of attractions as opportunity would permit.

The social committee was well chosen, and they are a unit in agreeing that the Knights are sure to patronize the events when something out of the ordinary is brought up as an attraction. The socials will be held from time to time during the winter and the first effort is an indication of the success the future promises.

More Echo of the Wrecking Of the Flyer

At Parson's Bluff on the C. H. & D.

Suit for Five Thousand and Forty-five Dollars is Commenced.

Albert J. Flanders, of Dayton, Who was Injured in the Wreck, is the Plaintiffs—News of the Railroad.

Albert J. Flanders, has entered suit against the C. H. & D., at Dayton for damages in the sum of $5,540 for injuries which he avers he sustained in the wreck on April 24, 1901, near Johnson's Station. He alleges negligence on the parts of the railroad company in that it had weak and defective guiding wheels on the forward end of the engine and alleges that the roadbed of the railroad was in bad condition at the point at which the accident occurred. He therefore asks damages in the sum of $5,000 and for recovery of a doctor's bill amounting to $540. This suit grows out of the memorable wreck of the C. H. & D. flyer, No. 3, at Parson's Bluff, near Johnson's on the date above mentioned. In which passenger engineer Patrick Doolin and fireman McElroy, of this city were instantly killed.

Mrs. Fred Vnrath,

No. 228 Territorial Street, Benton Harbor, Mich.

"I am pleased to give my experience with Wine of Cardui as I am very grateful for its help. After my first baby was born I could not seem to regain my strength, although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband came home one evening with some Wine of Cardui and insisted that I take it for a week and see what it would do for me. As he seemed to have so much faith in it I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

Mrs. Fred Vnrath.

As are their ambitions, triumphs and defeats. Healthy women do not suffer from miscarriage nor does a woman who is healthy suffer from childbearing. It is the woman who is ailing—who has female weakness—who fears the ordeal of becoming a mother. Wine of Cardui builds up the woman in a woman. It stops all unnatural drains and restores the system to its normal state. It makes a woman strong and healthy and able to pass through pregnancy and childbirth with little suffering. After the ordeal is passed the Wine of Cardui prepares a woman for a speedy recovery to health and activity.

Wine of Cardui, in reinforcing the organs of generation, has made mothers of women who had given up hope of ever becoming mothers. Wine of Cardui will cure almost any case of barrenness except cases of organic trouble. How can you refuse to take such a remedy that promises such relief from suffering? Wine of Cardui simply makes you a strong woman, and strong, healthy women do not suffer. They look forward to motherhood with joy.

WINE of CARDUI

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

OLD DAYS RECALLED

Numberless Reunions the Feature at the Encampment.

PROMINENT MEN MAKE ADDRESSES.

Grand Parade of Veterans Witnessed and Applauded by Multitudes, and Reviewed by the Chief Executive. Other Incidents of the Grand Army Meeting at the Capital.

Washington, Oct. 5.—In connection with the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, there were a great number of reunions of regiments, division corps and armies. All of them were held in the large tents at Camp Roosevelt. There was an almost continuous flow of oratory and song. As a rule the speeches consisted of recitals of events of the war.

The huge tent which had been given the name of General Philip Sheridan was crowded by veterans to hear Secretary Root, Governor Bliss of Michigan, General J. H. Wilson, Rev. Dr. Bristol of this city, General Edgar Allen of the Ninth Michigan cavalry and Captain William Potter of the Ninth Pennsylvania cavalry, president of the Soldiers and Sailors' Rights League. Secretary Root's address consisted entirely of an expression of gratitude of the present generation for the services rendered in GENERAL RUSSELL A. ALGER.

1861-5 by the men who constitute the Grand Army. "We are not," he said, "of the Egyptians who know not Joseph."

Governor Bliss spoke of his recent appointment to the senate of ex-Secretary Alger, saying that it was vindication of an ex-soldier who had been much vilified. General Wilson referred to the proposal to erect a monument to General Robert E. Lee, saying that our monuments should be to men who had assisted in keeping the flag flying and not to those who would have pulled it down. Captain Weller endorsed General Wilson's statements on the flag question.

Speeches were made at both the Fourth army corps and Spanish veterans reunions by General Jacob H. Smith, General O. O. Howard and Colonel John McElroy. General Smith declared that the success of our arms in Cuba and in the Philippines had been largely due to the influence of the veterans of 1861, and was greatly applauded.

The Army of the Tennessee held the principal reunion, and General Grenville M. Dodge was the chief speaker at that meeting. The reunion was held in the Grant tent and the attendance was large. General O. O. Howard, who is the only survivor of the army's commanders, presided. Speaking of the courage displayed by the American soldiers in Cuba and the Philippines, General Howard said that being the sons of veterans of 1861, they could not be otherwise than courageous.

Today's program of exercises included the spectacular event of the thirty-sixth annual encampment of the Grand Army, the grand parade of veterans, headed by Commander-in-Chief Eli Torrance. Many thousands of the heroes of the civil war were in line, and the procession was witnessed by applauding multitudes. The president left the White House for the first time since his return from Indianapolis, and drove along the line of the parade. He was enthusiastically greeted by the soldiers and citizens.

Washington Tuesday night officially extended the freedom of the city to the members of the Grand Army, speeches of welcome being delivered by Henry McFarland, president of the board of district commissioners; B. H. Warner, chairman of the citizens' committee, and by Secretary of War Root. In addition to them were on the platform Eugene F. Ware, commissioner of pension; John W. Foster, ex-secretary of state; Commander-in-Chief Torrance and many men and women prominent in Grand Army circles. General Torrance was presented with a handsome gold badge, the ceremonies being brought to a close by the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, accompanied by the United States marine band.

Trimmers and Cutters Quit. Chicago, Oct. 5.—A strike of trimmers and cutters belonging to the Brotherhood of Custom Cutters and Trimmers United Garment Workers of America against the special order of clothing workers, has been instituted. President Pickert of the Cutters' union, said that if the order issued from the headquarters of the local union was obeyed about 14,000 workers will be affected.

INDIAN SEEKS SENATORSHIP

Congressman Curtis of Kaw Tribe Would Go Up Higher.

An Indian is now a candidate for a seat in the United States senate. He is Congressman Charles Curtis of Kansas. Through a most romantic career he has climbed the ladder of fame from a poor Indian lad to a position of prominence among national lawmakers. He started out in life as a jockey on the race track, then trained broodhorses, drove a hack, swept out a law office in pay for an opportunity to study law, was admitted to the bar, elected county attorney and then went to congress.

Mr. Curtis, says the Omaha World-Herald, belongs to the aboriginal race and is proud of the fact that his Indian forbears were here when Columbus thought he was discovering a new world. His mother was a member of the Kaw tribe. Mr. Curtis' mother died when he was about three years old, and he went to live with his Indian grandmother near Council Grove, Kan. This Indian grandmother is mentioned in the treaty with the Kaw tribe in 1825.

By this treaty she and her sisters were given what is known as "Kaw Mile Four," the tract of land upon which the city of North Topeka is now built. In the homestead on this tract of land Congressman Curtis was born in 1860, and his fine new house marks the place of his birth forty-two years ago.

Of one incident of his childhood Mr. Curtis has a very vivid memory. He was eight years old and was coming home from school in Council Grove when he saw a war party of naked Kaws, painted and in war feathers, mounted on their ponies, swoop down from a hill overlooking the town and dash through it toward a hill on the other side. Mr. Curtis, archlike, wanted to know the why of all this, and one of the chiefs paused long enough to tell him that they were on their way out to fight their hereditary enemies, the Cheyennes, and to hold them back from the town till they could fortify it a little.

In a barn near by a large number of Kaw Indians gathered, and when the Cheyennes swept down through the town they passed this barn. A fierce shower of arrows stopped them, however, and, leaving many of their braves wounded and dying, they retreated, leaving the Kaws victors. This was the last fight between these two tribes. Mr. Curtis' father thought this was rather too strenuous a life for his young son, so he sent for him to go back to Topeka.

Ran a Ten Penny Nail Through His Hand.

While opening a box, J. C. Mount, of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. "I thought at once of all the pain and soreness this would cause me," he says, "and immediately applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and, occasionally afterwards. To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness, and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale by Wm. M. Melville, old post office corner.

His Life in Peril. I just seemed to have gone all to pieces," writes Alfred Bee, of Wolcott, Tex., "billiousness and a lame back had made life a burden. Now I sleep like a top, can eat any thing, have gained in strength and enjoy hard work." They give vigorous health and new life to weak, sickly, run-down people. Try them. Only 50c at H. F. ## CONFEREES HAVE IT.

House and Senate Codes Before the Committee.

RESULT WILL BE A COMPROMISE.

Each Branch of the Legislature Names Five Members to Deliberate the Amendments to the Governor's Bill. Salary Measure For the Senate. News of Ohio.

Columbus, Oct. 5.—The house of representatives passed the municipal code by a vote of 81 to 75. The vote was not strictly divided by party lines. There were four Democrats, Messrs. Clyburn of Highland, Gehrett of Henry, Partington of Shelby and Sharp of Fairfield, who voted for the measure, in company with 57 Republicans. There were 11 Democrats who failed to vote and the same number of Republicans.

Mr. Crafts introduced an appropriation bill which met with the approval of the members. It carried $77,000 for the payment of salaries and mileage of members and per diem of clerks and employees, $7,000 for contingent expenses of the house, $4,500 for contingent expenses of the senate, $1,000 for expenses of legislative committees. Under this measure each member of the house and senate was to be allowed $300 of his salary at the end of the extraordinary session, leaving $200 to be paid them next year.

Senator Barnham introduced a bill giving council authority to order railroads to place electric arc lights at street crossings. Such lights must be provided with ground or frayed globes. This is the arc light matter in new shape, and is intended to knock out the Jones arc light bill.

The Harding police court bill was defeated in the senate, it having failed to secure a two-thirds vote. Every Democrat voted against it.

The codes passed by the two branches of the general assembly are in the committee of conference, composed of 10 men, five from the senate and five from the house. Senators Nicholas Longworth of Cincinnati, Warren G. Harding of Marion, S. L. Patterson of Waverly, Frank B. Archer of Bellair and William S. Harris of Ashtabula are acting for the senate, while Messrs. A. G. Comings of Oberlin, Ralph D. Cole of Findlay, U. G. Denman of Toledo, W. E. Guerin of Sandusky and R. H. Sharp of Sugar Grove act for the house. They have two very dissimilar measures to consider, and the result of their deliberations of course will be a compromise.

On all sides it is conceded that the committee will report a bill providing for an elastic board system, but there are many other points of difference which must be reconciled. The house bill has a state merit system and an arbitration feature which will not be given up without a struggle, and the men who fought to place them in the house code are on the conference committee. There will be no question of police courts for the committee to wrestle with. The house, by a disputed decision, passed the session providing for these courts, but the senate defeated them by a strict party vote, and they are now pending on a question of reconsideration in the upper body.

The sections repealing all the laws relating to the police courts of the state are in the codes before the conference committee, and are not subjects of dispute between the two houses. If the police court bill fails to become a law and the code is passed, all the police courts of the state will be wiped out and the administration of justice in the municipalities will devolve upon justices of the peace.

Will Not Attend.

Cincinnati, Oct. 5.—The committee which was named by Mayor Fleischmann to attend the conference which is to be held in Detroit to discuss the coal situation met and decided not to attend. This action was also concurred in by the mayor. A sentiment among the members that nothing can be accomplished by the conference, since the efforts of the president were futile, was given as the reason for not attending the conference.

She Was a Spy in Union Army.

Prisoners Escape.

McConnellsville, O., Oct. 5.—Henry Cunningham, who is charged with breaking the seal of a boxcar and robbing it, and Arthur Johnson, charged with attempt to rape, broke the lock on the jail door during the night and made good their escape.

A Sad Case.

Cincinnati, Oct. 5.—Mrs. William Anderson, sister of Ren Mulford, the well known sporting writer, killed herself at her home in Winter Place by drowning in an outhouse vault. Mrs. Anderson had become demented over the loss of a six-year-old son about a month ago.

Declared Not Guilty.

Cleveland, Oct. 5.—Dr. F. W. Daykin, who has been on trial charged with having given City Councilman Charles A. Kohl $2,000, a payment on a $5,000 bribe for his vote on a natural gas ordinance, was declared not guilty of the charge by a jury in a criminal court.

A Great Exhibition.

The exhibition to be held in New York under the auspices of the Professional Women's league promises to be by far the greatest ever undertaken by that organization. An impression of the magnitude of some of these features may be obtained from the statement that on one, a reproduction of a street in Venice, it is intended to expend at least $30,000, writes the New York correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. Agents have been sent to scour the world for novelties of this kind, while many arrangements already made provide for unique methods of conducting the exposition proper. In view of the recent termination of the war in South Africa no booth in the street is likely to be more popular than that typifying the Transvaal. Here will be presented a scene of dreary desolation, a kraal on the side of a sandy kopje, a shot riddled house in the middle distance, a pair of half-starved horses being outspanned by a woman, while the others dispute a poor breakfast of mealies with a hungry cur.

Mrs. G. W. Eckert.Funeral Held from St. Rose
Church at Eight-thirty
Today.Body Consigned to a Final Resting Place in Gethsemani Cemetery—Funeral Largely Attended.

A large concourse of sorrowing friends were present this morning at the last sad rites which were held over the remains of Mrs. George W. Eckert, at St. Rose church at 8:30 o'clock this morning. Rev. A. E. Manning, pastor of the deceased, was celebrant of the solemn requiem high mass, with Rev. P. J. O'Connell, of Cleveland, as deacon. Rev. M. P. Har- nett, sub deacon and Rev. P. J. Quinn, of Van Wert, master of ceremonies. The casket was covered with a wealth of magnificent floral tributes which were large in numbers and grand in design. At the conclusion of the solemn services, Rev. P. J. O'Connell, of the cathedral in Cleveland, preached the funeral sermon, in which he paid an eloquent tribute to the life and christian character of the deceased. As the funeral procession was leaving the church, the choir sang the beautiful hymn, "My Child Give Me Thy Heart" which was a favorite song of the deceased's in life. The large funeral cortege then slowly wended its way to Gethsemani, God's acre, where the remains were tenderly lowered to a final resting place, beside the remains of her deceased little daughter, father, brothers and sisters. Rev. Father O'Connell performed the last sad rites at the grave. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Frank Louy, Eugene Christen, Walter Campbell, Clinton Seals, T. A. Walsh and Philip O'Connor. The following relatives from out of the city were present at the funeral services: Mrs. Henry Trost and Mrs. John O'Connor, of Dayton; Miss Margaret O'Connor, of Urbana, Mo. and Mrs. John O'Connell, of St. Marys; John Hunt, of Glynwood, Miss Geneva Louy, of Custer, and Miss Nellie Rowland, of Columbus Grove.

The bereaved husband is very grate- ful to the funeral directors of the city, all of whom rendered to him their valued assistance in his time of deep sorrow. Their kindness and their as- sistance to him in the saddest hour of his life will ever be appreciated by him and by those who grieve with him over his irretrievable loss.

The Bowling Green court house, Friday, was the scene of a novel pro- ceeding in which the law's offenders joined enthusiastically in carrying out the order of the court. Eight saloon keepers from Cynthet, a small town near there, were found guilty of allow- ing men to play slot machines, and were fined $50 and costs, and the goods ordered destroyed. There were fourteen slot machines and these were smashed to kindling wood, the sa- loon keepers being present and assist- ing materially. They displayed the greatest industry in smashing the de- vices and went home declaring they were done with the slot machine busi- ness. The music boxes in the ma- chines were preserved, and one will be placed in each of the county offices, where it will beguile the officials when stress of business has brought ex- treme weariness.

TURNOUT

Continues in Methodist CongregationsAnd Further Changes are Likely to be Made.Rev. J. W. Donnan is Not Acceptable to Members at Toledo and Marion Wants
Dr. Avann.

Since the closing of the M. E. con- ference at Defiance, says the Delphos Herald, considerable dissatisfaction has become apparent among the con- gregations of several of the churches to which the ministers have been as- signed.

The special Friday from Marion stating that the Epworth M. E. church there had voted to ask Bishop Mer- rill to retain Rev. A. E. Smith as pastor of that church has caused considerable discussion among local Metho- dists. As stated previously Dr. J. M. Avann, the retiring presiding elder of the Toledo district was appointed to Epworth M. E. church at Marion and Rev. Smith was sent to William street church, Delaware. As far as can be learned, it appears that this arrange- ment is not altogether satisfactory, and the general belief here is that if any changes are made, Mr. Smith will be retained at Marion. Mr. Hollington remained at Keaton, and Dr. Avann sent to Williams street church, Delaware. It is said that the members of the Wil- liams street church are favorably dis- posed toward Dr. Avann as a pastor, although, of course, the above ar- rangement is somewhat suggestive.

It is possible that Rev. J. W. Don- nan will not be next pastor of St. James' M. E. church in Toledo. Al- though appointed to that church by Bishop Merrill, the congregation at a meeting held Wednesday evening of last week, decided that Mr. Donnan would not be acceptable as a pastor.

Dr. W. G. Watters, the newly ap- pointed elder, was called up by long distance phone and informed of the situation. What action will be taken is not known and yesterday the members de- clined to state what Dr. Watters said in reply to the communication.

It is, however, understood that Rev. Strother, who was appointed to West- ern avenue, would be acceptable as a pastor at St. James.

Dr. Avann has received a letter from Marion bearing on the action of the church there on the pastoral mat- ters. The letter states that at a meet- ing of the official board, at which thirty-five members were present, it was unanimously agreed to receive Dr. Avann as pastor in case Dr. Smith is provided for suitably.

SENT INTO
ETERNITY.Earl Bush and Frank Anspach Blown to Atoms. Factory and Magazine of Producers Explosive Company Go Up.

A terrific explosion occurred about 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, which caused the pedestrian and busy man of the town to halt in his rapid pro- gress and ask his nearest neighbor the cause and wherefore of it.

There was a rush for high buildings and anxious eyes swept the horizon, several being aided by field glasses, to detect the signs of disturbance. Far to the southwest there was a heavy drift of smoke and dust which accom- panied the blowing up of a magazine. Those who were of the opinion that the sharpness of the explosion indicat- ed the discharge of dynamite at a nearby quarry, were in a mistaken mi- nority when the word came from a Times-Democrat representative sent to the scene that both the magazine and factory of the Producers Explosive Company had been blown to atoms on the John H. Berryman farm, east of McBeth's park.

The usual distressing feature of the accident was the further verified re- port that two men in the employ of the company had been killed. The unfortunate victims were Earl

Bush and Frank Anspach, both of whom were at work in the factory making nitroglycerine. In a short time a score of persons had gathered at the scene, ambulances were sent for and a hurried examination of the premises brought to light the mangled remains of Anspach. Fragments of a team of horses and a wagon were also discovered, but there was no trace whatever of Bush at the time of going to press.

Bush, who is a man with a family, came to Lima only a short time ago from North Baltimore, and had his household goods on the way here, where he intended to make his home, having engaged a house at the corner of High and Union street.

Anspach is a single man and has been boarding at the mill. The explosion broke a number of window lights in the west end, one large one being blown out in Miller's grocery, and at several private resi- dences on West Spring street. The report was plainly heard at Siltzey, a telephone message being received from there soon after the explosion, asking the cause.
